

Keith E. Stouder – IT Risk Officer

Keith joined the Office of Audit, Risk and Compliance as the Information Technology (IT) Risk Officer in 2018. In this role he is responsible for understanding and promoting IT risk awareness and technology risk management strategy for the university, health system, and their wholly-owned subsidiaries and affiliated entities. He leads a team responsible for designing and implementing assessment and assurance strategies for IT risk management and monitoring risk mitigation plans across the entire Duke enterprise. Keith currently serves as a board member for the local Information Systems Audit and Controls Association (ISACA) chapter.

Prior to his role at Duke, Keith spent 10 years at Blue Cross North Carolina in various enterprise architecture roles. His last role was an Enterprise Architecture Manager, responsible for managing an architecture governance and technical assessment practice. Keith spent his earlier career in consulting and IT operations.

Keith holds a B.A. from Manchester University as well as a M.P.A. and a M.S. from Ball State University. He is a Certified Information Security Manager (CISM) and a Certified Information Systems Auditor (CISA).
